

The Willis L. Haenke Historical Foundation is currently funding the transfer of old Mining Reports from the Queensland Government Mining Journal from paper to a Web-based format. This information will be able to be searched and publicly available once proof-read. More information will be released as this project progresses. We have also converted a number of old mining related articles from the Queensland Times.