

The Haenke Foundation is assisting the organising committee and Trust in the development of an Ipswich - Rosewood Coalminers Memorial to be built in Limestone Park during the later half of 2012. This memorial will initially recognise the 184 people who lost their lives from a coal mining accident that became the subject of a Minings Wardens enquiry.